ESTABLISHED FEBRUARY 7, 1884. McKINNEY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, MAY 25, 1933.—8 PAGES FIFTIETH YEAR

To Sponsor Rat Extermination Drive In County

Under Direction U. S. Gov't. Representative And Agent McCullough; Rodents Annually Cause Great Damage in Collin.

O. L. Coleman, representing the biological survey of the United States Department of Agriculture, of San Antonio, was in McKinney Wednesday in conference with County Farm Agent Jack McCullough in regard to a county-wide rat-extermination campaign. Although his main interest in this county will be the supervision of rat extermination, Mr. Coleman is also interested in the killing of all rodents, such as rabbits, prairie dogs, gophers, and other farm pests.

Mr. Coleman will be back in McKinney Tuesday and Wednesday, May 30 and 31 and Thursday and Friday June 1 and 2 to assist Agent McCullough in this campaign against rodents in Collin county.

Schedule of Visits.

They will make two visits to each of the eight central points of this county. Their first round of visits follows:

Tuesday May 30.

Farmersville 9 a. m. meeting at the Chamber of Commerce.

Nevada 11 a. m., at the bank.

Wylie, 1 p. m., at the bank.

Plano, 3 p. m., at the Chamber of Commerce.

Wednesday, May 31.

Frisco, 9 a. m., at Carpenter's garage.

Celina, 11 a. m., at Chamber of Commerce.

Melissa, 1 p. m., at bank.

Blue Ridge, 3 p. m., at Nelson's Drug store.

Mr. Coleman and County Agent McCullough are asking every one interested to attend these meetings, so that plans may be made for the distribution of the 'bait.' The purpose of their first round of visits is to ascertain the amount of rats and the bait needed to kill them.

Mr. Coleman says that the Department of Agriculture recommends the method that he uses as the best manner in which to get rid of rats and rodents. It has been thoroughly tested by government authorities. The poison used is practically harmless to all other animals, except rats. The poison is known as red squill and is mixed with hamburger meat. It costs approximately 20 cents per pound. Two pounds is enough for an average farm. The poison is slow acting, giving the rats time in which to come out in the open to die.

Rats On Increase.

Rats are on the increase all over the Southwest and Collin county is no exception to the rule. Farm Agent McCullough says that rats have caused much damage all over the county already this year, and this will be a sure way of exterminating them at a minimum cost.

Rats do $20,000,000 worth of damage in the United States annually. It takes an average of $2.00 a year to maintain a rat. Many farmers have already reported to Mr. McCullough of damage done by the rodents and are anxious for a remedy such as Mr. Coleman is bringing them.

It is understood that agents for Schlitz beer and other big beer concerns have been in McKinney, negotiating for the opening of storage plants in our city, if 3.2 beer is voted by the people of Texas on August 26. It is believed that some five or six big breweries will be represented here.

Grady Gies of Anna is in McKinney serving on the grand jury for a few days.

On May 17, Mrs. John Schaffner, living on Munger avenue, Dallas, celebrated her 75th birthday. Several relatives and friends attended and partook of a birthday dinner with them. This fine old lady was the recipient of a number of useful presents left on that occasion as tokens of love by her friends and relatives. Among those attending the happy event were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rambo of McKinney, the latter being a daughter. Mrs. C. N. Malone of McKinney was one of the several friends also attending. Mrs. Schaffner's husband is about the same age. This fine old couple have a number of friends in McKinney where they often come to visit their son-in-law and daughter.

Miss Janice Cooley, recent graduate nurse of the city hospital, is doing special duty in that institution. Miss Janice is a daughter of Mrs. J. W. Cooley of the Dump community.

Mrs. John Johnson is very ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ray Harris, on West Davis street. Mrs. Johnson is one of our city and county's mostly beloved Christian women.

WIFE FORMER GRAYSON COUNTY LAWMAKER DIES

Mrs. Laura B. Evans died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Creed Taylor, in Van Alstyne Saturday, May 20, after a several weeks' illness. Burial took place Sunday following in the Van Alstyne cemetery, with Rev. Lloyd Mottley, pastor of the Christian church, officiating.

The deceased was the widow of a former Van Alstyne editor and Grayson county legislator. She taught school in her young womanhood at Elmont and helped her husband run his paper.

Her survivors are Mrs. W. F. Douglas of Van Alstyne, Mrs. Creed Taylor of Van Alstyne; Armour Evans of Durant, Okla.; a sister, Mrs. Lula Henderson of San Angelo; two brothers, Frank Armour, of Mobile, Alabama, and John Armour of San Antonio.

Mrs. Evans, formerly Miss Laura Belle Armour, came to Texas in 1883 to teach in the Elmont public school. Her home was in Rienzi, Miss., which was her birthplace.

She was married in 1884 to S. P. Evans, also a teacher and for many years a member of the state legislature. To the union was born five children, two of whom died in infancy. She had been a widow for more than 30 years, and for the past 10 years had made her home with her daughter.

She was a lifelong member of the Christian church.

Fire of undetermined origin about 8:30 Tuesday night partially destroyed the servant house of Mrs. J. L. Lovejoy situated back of her home on North Kentucky street. A quick call, with some effective work by the local volunteer fire department, under Chief John S. McKinney, prevented additional damage to nearby barns and homes.

Luther Truett Jr., son of Hon. and Mrs. L. J. Truett of McKinney, will receive the bachelor of arts degree from Baylor university on the occasion of the eighty-eighth commencement of that institution which will be held Wednesday, May 31. Luther is a fine young man, a graduate of McKinney High school, where he was an excellent student and football star.

Mrs. Alvin Patterson of Celina is a patient in the city hospital. She is getting along nicely.

J. M. Woody of Dalhart Is Visitor

J. M. Woody dropped down from Dalhart and this editor had the pleasure of shaking his friendly hand. For many years, he resided in the Princeton community, being one of Collin county's real dirt farmers, moving west three years ago.

Mr. Woody owns two sections, eighteen miles from Dalhart, only twelve miles from the Colorado and Texas state lines. He says that no rain of any importance has fallen in his section since last June, and that the wheat crop is a total failure. In fact, few crops of any kind have been planted. However, with a good rain in the next few days, feed crops could be grown and fall wheat would be planted. He likes the west very much, except the terrible windstorms and sand.

Mr. Woody, a little over a year ago, had the misfortune to lose his wife.

He drove down in a truck, with one of his daughters, having business in Fannin county, owning a good farm over there. He is one of the brightest Masons in Texas and was Worshipful Master of St. John's Lodge, A. F. & A. M., No. 51, McKinney.

BARBECUE OF JAYCEES IS BIG SUCCESS

Tuesday, May 23, 1933, will be recorded as one of the red-letter days in the history of the McKinney Junior Chamber of Commerce, who, on that evening gathered in the pasture on the farm of Eros Brown, livewire Allen livestockman, farmer and landowner, to enjoy a big barbecue, with all the trimmings.

The occasion was a celebration of the first birthday of the local Jaycee organization which came into being Monday night, May 23, 1932. The entertainment committee, headed by W. W. Hall, had an abundance of good things to eat, to tempt the appetites of the 150 members and guests present.

Wives and sweethearts of the members were special guests of the occasion, helping to make the event a success, and one that will long be remembered by each member.

Eric Gambrell, president of the Dallas Junior Chamber of Commerce; Fonse Ragland, of Dallas, president of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce and about twenty directors of that organization came up to enjoy the evening's festivities.

Music was furnished by a local orchestra, composed of Marshall Goddard, Gibson Harris, Fred Nelson, Jesse Orenduff and James Graves.

The Eros Brown place is excellent for such an occasion. It is a natural playground, with a lake, Mr. Brown having installed a Delco lighting system. Naturally, those attending went away thanking him for his hospitality.

There was no set program, after the barbecue every one enjoying a happy half hour or so in conversation with friends.

Marion O. Bozeman, first president of the local Jaycee organization, spoke briefly, introducing R. E. (Bob) Gordon who presented W. P. Abernathy, president of the McKinney Junior Chamber of Commerce with a handsome loving cup as the result of winning of the first flight in the recent city-wide golf championship tourney. Mr. Abernathy, in a few appropriate words, accepted the award.

The barbecue was one of the most complete, in every way ever held in the county, with an abundance of tender barbecue on hand, prepared by "Major" Dixon, local colored resident, who is an expert in the cuisine art. The 'trimmings' consisted of cheese, pickles, olives, peanuts, potato chips and drinks. Claude Neely, manager of the McKinney Coca-Cola Bottling company, was there with his truck, and had plenty of ice cold soda pop for every one present.

W. B. Benge of Brownsville is visiting his old McKinney home, where he was born and reared. The Benge family was one of the most prominent during the first fifty years of our county history in a political and business way. Mr. Benge states that McKinney shows more thrift, activity and life than any town that he visited on the nearly 500-mile trip from Brownsville to McKinney. He says there is an air of industry, business and ambition about the old town that you don't find in many other cities now since the depression took things into its grip thre or four years ago. Billie is kept quite busy when he appears on our streets in greeting numerous old friends.

The regular monthly business meeting and social of the Collin County Christian endeavor was held at the First Christian church here Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Louis Howell, president of the county organization, presided over the business session after which several games and diversions were enjoyed. Delicious ic cream and cake were served to those present.

Former County Clerk Shirley G. Taylor, who recently rebuilt his burned home on North College street, has completed it and moved back into his own home premises again. This is one of McKinney's prettiest and most modern homes. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor also know how to beautify their premises in the most attractive way with flowers, shrubbery and vines. They own a vacant lot adjacent to their home on the south which they also keep in a most attractive way. Little corner flower beds adorn their property. A background of varied colored hollyhocks and gorgeously colored larkspur across the rear of their vacant lot is now showing up at its best and is admired by all passing along North College street.

L. C. Kenyon of Pratt Brothers' grocery had business in Dallas Wednesday.

J. T. Bomar and wife have returned to their home at Three Rivers, Texas, after spending the week-end with relatives in McKinney. J. T. is a grandson of J. W. (Billy) Bomar and a nephew of T. Al Bomar. Mrs. C. N. Malone and Mrs. Dock Massie, all of this

Agreement Is Reached Between Orient Nations; Peace Move Is Started

Invaders Agree Not To Occupy City of Chinese Troops Evacuate and Stay Behind Lines; Treaty Planned.

Tokio, May 24.—The War office asserted Wednesday that danger of a battle for the possession of Peiping was believed over and that a Sin-Japanese truce would become effective shortly.

Operations in the Peiping area were described as practically finished without occupation of the ancient capital by Japanese troops.

This truce was reported by the Rengo (Japanese) News agency and provides that Chinese troops shall evacuate Peiping and remain behind a line running from the Great Wall to the north of the ancient capital in a southeasterly direction to the sea.

Meanwhile, the news report said, negotiations for terms of a permanent peace settlement will be opened soon in Peiping.

Will Not Enter City.

Japanese army leaders were reported to have given the assurance that their troops would not enter the old imperial city of the Manchus, since the Chinese have peacefully retired therefrom.

Tokio officials who forcast the signing of a Sino-Japanese armistice said certain high Chinese authorities had offered terms of peace which the Japanese were willing to meet half way.

REPORTS SHOULD BE MADE NOW TO COUNTY SUPT.

County Superintendent L. Dow Hendricks is asking all principals of rural schoo's in the county to turn in their term reports as well as book reports at once. The term report, which show the progress of work the past year, is due. Book reports must also be turned in immediately, so that the superintendent may know how many books to order for next year.

Approximately two thirds of the county's principals have already complied with the county superintendent's request.

The superintendent's office is also asking all independent districts of the county to turn in a statement of their high school tuition. The County School board meets here Monday, June 5, to pass on them and they must be here at that time. These statements must be in Austin not later than June 15.

County Superintendent Hendricks and his assistant, Malcolm Walters will appreciate the cooperation of all school officials in getting this important matter attended to.

MRS. E. L. BURTON ENTERTAINED CHURCH SOCIETY

An unusually interesting meeting was held Monday afternoon by the Ladies Missionary Society of the First Methodist church at the home of their faithful and popular president, Mrs. E. L. Burton, corner of South Tennessee and Davis streets. This always radiates cheer and hospitality and this meeting was no exception to that rule. In the absence of Mrs. Claude Purnell, who was to have had charge of the devotional, the hostess herself read a portion of the Eleventh Chapter of Luke's Gospel, adding thereto pertinent and helpful comments on the scripture.

Mrs. Pearl Jackson called the roll and read the minutes of the proceedings of the previous meeting.

Mesdames Thos. Johnson and Chas. P. Heard gave a lesson from The World Outlook on "The True Church of Christ." This excellent lesson was followed by an impressive silent prayer concluded audibly by Mrs. J. S. Carlisle.

Some interesting reports were given by several members who attended the recent district meeting at Garland.

An interesting Bible study from the Book of Amos was given by Mrs. J. W. N. Burkett, one of our city's most talented ladies and learned Bible scholars.

During the social half hour the hostess, Mrs. Burton, introduced an amusing diversion and passed a refreshment plate of pecan pie and iced tea.

This loyal group of church working women each voted "Miss Lizzie" an ideal hostess and beloved leader and companion in every good work that she lays her hand to.

Pratt Brothers have leased the W. O. W. building on South Tennessee street for a storage for their big grocery business on East Louisiana street. For several years they occupied this big building.

O. L. Miller of Princeton is in McKinney this week serving on the grand jury.

Grover Dixon of Blue Ridge is here serving on the grand jury which re-convened Monday.

FIRE DESTROYS HOME ON NORTH COLLEGE STREET

BELONGING TO MRS. SADIE MELTON; IS TOTAL LOSS

Fire, originating about 4:30 o'clock this (Thursday) morning, destroyed the home of Mrs. Sadie Melton on North College street. Mrs. Melton is of the opinion that lightning struck the house, causing it to catch on fire. She and several others were in the storm cellar at the time and when they came out found the house in flames. Volunteer firemen answered the alarm, but since the house was off the pavement and due to the heavy two-inch rain last night they were unable to reach it. Mrs. Melton carried $500 insurance on the home, with no insurance on the contents. The house and contents were a total loss.

Mr. Barnett's death was a shock to his friends throughout the state, where he was known and appreciated for his unusual success in building up the great orphanage property and home values at three quarters of a million dollars, in which more than 450 orphan children are given the benefit of a home and every other advantage that a child should have in the way of school and church advantages.

A McKinney man, Walter B. Wilson, is a member of the board of trustees of the orphanage which Mr. Barnett so ably managed and helped build up during the last fifteen years.

BELOVED OLD M'KINNEY MOTHER SUDDENLY DIES

Death messenger on swift wings called at 4:30 Wednesday morning for the soul of Mrs. T. E. Apple, 81 years, 4 months and 19 days old, who was one of our city's most beloved old mothers and fine Christian characters. She had not been well in recent weeks, but was able to be up and around her home. About an hour before she died, she arose and put on her dress but soon laid down again on her bed without complaining of anything specially hurting her, but her daughter, Mrs. Avo Hutchins, noticed a little later that she was laboriously breathing and summoned some of the neighbors who were present at the bedside when her apparently painless death ensued.

Funeral Services.

Funeral services were held at the family residence, 548 North Tennessee street, at four o'clock Thursday afternoon, May 25 conducted by her pastor, Dr. Claude M. Simpson of the First Methodist church. Interment followed beside the grave of her husband in Pecan Grove cemetery, who preceded her to the grave nearly twenty-six years ago.

Burial arrangements were in charge of the Sam J. Massie & Son Funeral home.

Active pall bearers:

Born in Tennessee.

Miss Tennessee Ella Apple was born January 4, 1852, in Smith county, Tennessee, being the daughter of a Methodist minister and also the granddaughter on her mother's side of Rev. Mr. Timberlake, another prominent pioneer Tennessee Methodist divine. She received fairly good educational advantages for that early day, attending college in Nashville, Tenn. In early childhood she professed religion and joined the Methodist church in which communion she faithfully lived the remainder of life. She was married, December 21, 1871, to G. B. Apple, at Snow Creek, Tennessee. Although her maiden name was the same as her husband's, yet they were not related and of different families. They moved to Texas in December, 1881, and lived about thirteen years on a farm east of McKinney. They moved to McKinney in 1894, where her husband engaged in the papering and painting contracting business, being an expert at that trade which he followed until his death, October 20, 1908.

Her Survivors.

Mrs. Apple is survived by five sons and three daughters as follows: Will B. Apple, Sam Apple, both of McKinney; Boss, Belmont and Roy Apple, all of Dallas; Mrs. L. L. Pittman of McKinney, Mrs. Gertrude Dedmon of Fort Worth and Mrs. Avo Hutchins of McKinney. One child died in babyhood. She is also survived by twenty-eight grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Apple was an old-fashioned, devout Christian mother, who brooked no compromise between good and evil, and in her modest, loving life of service to her loved ones and those about her. She ruled by the strength of her tender love and gentleness. Her motherhood spirit was not limited by any means to her own children and grandchildren, but embraced many others who came under the influence of her modest, devoted spirit and whose lives responded to her kindly influence and teachings and bear the stamp of her Christian ideals and character. As has been said, "For such there is no death; but a beauty and a dignity in the homegoing."

An interesting program has been arranged for the occasion. County Superintendent L. Dow Hendricks will preside and will address the students. Mrs. J. Frank Harrington, wife of County Judge J. Frank Harrington, will be the principal speaker. Mrs. Harrington is county P.-T. A. president and an active worker in church and civic lines. BANK REFORM BILL PASSED BY 262 TO 19

Washington, May 24.—A thunderous chorus of ayes Tuesday put through the house the eucompassing Glass-Steagall bank reform, designed to safeguard the deposits of money earners and give assurance that federal reserve member banking will be strictly separated from speculative operations.

There was not even the formality of a roll call when the reform bill was passed and sent to the senate, where its comapnion measure is unfinished business. Just as a test of strength, however, there was a last rising vote, showing only nineteen members against the measure and 262 for it.

Broad in its terms, the bill as yet faces an uncertain future. Despite the strong support of Senator Glass (Dem.), Virginia, in the senate, it has not been made a part of the Roosevelt program for the mergency session. Advocates of the measure contend, nevertheless, that the administration would not oppose its enactment.

Complete Safety Up to $10,000.

As it passed the house, the bill would establish a quasi-federal deposit insurance fund that might reach $2,000,000,000.

BOZEMAN'S SELF-SERVING GROCERY AND MARKET

We call attention in the advertising columns of The Daily Courier-Gazette and The Weekly Democrat-Gazette to an advertisement of Bozeman's self-serving grocery and market, who solicit a liberal share of our reader's grocery and market business. The new store opens up on East Louisiana street, in the building formerly occupied by the Collin County Seed company. The building has been repainted and recalcimized, new fixtures installed, it now being one of the nicest business places in our city.

Mr. Bozeman, the new proprietor of the store, is a native of Collin county, having been born and reared in the Plano-Wylie communities. For several years he has been engaged in the grocery business in Dallas. He is a young man of pleasing address, courteous and polite and our readers are courteously referred to his advertisement elsewhere in our papers.

Fred Bush was here from Dallas. He formerly lived in McKinney, being born and reared in Collin county. He yet has much interest in lands and city property.

APPROACHING NINETY-SEVENTH BIRTHDAY

Our office Tuesday, received a most genial call from our good friend, Capt. W. H. Bristol, who attained his 96th birthday on December 3, last. He was able to climb the stairs to our office with an elastic step that would have done credit to a man half his age. He came in to renew his Daily Courier-Gazette subscription for another three months in advance. He is making his home with his devoted niece, Mrs. C. C. Cobb, 605 Foote street.

Capt. Bristol was born December 3, 1836, at Morganton, Burke county, North Carolina. He has retained both his mental and physical faculties to a very remarkable degree.

While visiting in our office, he read some from books and newspapers without the use of spectacles. His hearing is also fairly good.

He is a constant reader and a diligent student of the Bible. He has given much thoughtful consideration to the study of the scriptures for many years with the result that his mind is stored with a rich fund of knowledge of that Book of Books. He uses his typewriter with ease and enjoys writing on subjects of various kinds that he has studied and is also a very interesting conversationalist as well as an interesting writer.

He has spent the last sixty years mostly in Collin county, living at Fayburg, Prosper and McKinney. He has taken our paper most of the time ever since it was first published.

Capt. Bristol is a devout Christian who enjoys attending church services and goes almost every Sunday. He has been a Methodist ever since early Boyhood. He still has great zest in living and is possessed of a cheerful optimism and is a man who believes in and stands for the best things of life. Indeed, he is a wonderful old gentleman in many ways. We greatly value his friendship.

The first carload of East Texas tomatoes was shipped from Livingston on Tuesday by E. M. Shoemaker. The price paid growers was 2½c a pound for green wrapped. Loadings throughout the East Texas territory will be light until about June 1. It is estimated that the acreage is not more than 50 per cent of last years, with an indication of a light yield because of dry weather and black rot.

Some report wheat and oat cutting in West Collin and East Denton counties. The wheat and oat crop is very light, especially the oat crop.

EDITORIAL EXPRESSION

I believe the Bible is the best gift God has ever given to man. All the good from the Saviour of the world is communicated to us thru this book.—Abraham Lincoln.

One year ago, Texas wool sold around five cents per pound. Now it is from 18 to 22 cents. The supply of wool in the United States in 1933 is six per cent smaller than the ten year average.

Acres and acres of onions are rapidly maturing in this great blackland county. The yield promises to be fairly satisfactory as is already the market price. We hope the market will hold up so that the growers may get a satisfactory return on their product and hard labor.

Baby beef calves fed by Texas 4-H club boys made money during the feeding season just ended. County agent reports show that profits ranged from $5.00 to $20.00 per head, exclusive of prices, and with the average slightly above $10.00 per head for the farm boys.

Texas now has a law stopping foreclosures on farms for the ensuing year. It looks like by the end of that time, farm commodity prices and perhaps lower interest rates will enable distressed farmers to meet payments on their loans. We are pinning our faith onto the farmers if you will only give them a chance.

Feeding and raising of dairy cattle in Collin county was reported as on the increase last year. A good dairy herd is an asset to any farm, and you can drink milk when you can't eat cotton. It wouldn't be a bad idea for Collin farmers to continue their diversifying even if cotton prices do go sky high again.

About 8,000 trustees have cooperated in helping to impress the present session of the legislature with its duty to do something definitely for the public schools of the state. These trustees have had a powerful effect in helping our state lawmaking body become school conscious. Texas cannot afford to dilly dally about the best possible educational advantages of her children.

Some Texas farmers who held their five cent cotton are now selling it at eight to nine cents per pound. They are also getting fifty cents a bushel for wheat, whereas at last threshing time, thirty to thirty-five cents per bushel was the ruling market. Corn sold at gathering time last fall around fifteen cents per bushel. Some Collin farmers have in the last few days sold corn as high as forty cents per bushel. Oats have also more than doubled in price in the last ninety days.

Holders of farm mortgages in Iowa and other states of that section of west and northwest are faced with mobs of threatening farmers most every time a move is made to foreclose in one of their farms. Lots of people sympathize with the farmers. On account of the low market for what they raise, their debt dollars have more than doubled since they contracted the debts. In our opinion, farm mortgage holders should be extremely lenient under present conditions—and most of them have been.

One of the great generating electric power and light plants of the Southwest is located at Trinidad, Texas, and is owned by the Texas Power & Light company. McKinney is one of the 300 or 400 towns and villages securing light and power facilities from this plant, which is a huge enterprise. This editor was recently one of a group of McKinney business men to visit the Trinidad plant. After seeing it, we are in no sort of doubt about its drawing power for industrial development of the Eastern half of Texas. New industries are on the lookout for a favorable location with adequate electric power facilities. Texas now takes a front seat on that score. It can compete with any other state on available power at the most attractive competitive rates.

Prohibition has made such progress in helping conditions as not only to justify but to demand its continuance. The figures and studies of the Government indicate a decline in liquor consumption from an average of 23 gallons per capita in wet 1914, the last unqualified wet year, with illicit drink included, to an average of 7½ gallons in dry 1930, including illicit drink. Does anyone with the good of the country at heart want to return to the former status? The claim of increased drinking is due to the fact that happenings among people of station and influence and their satellites are chronicled far and wide while the doings of the vast bulk of our inhabitants who earn a living with the labor of their hands never come into public notice. What a perversion of reason it is to say that because the prominent few insist on breaking the law and becoming partners with the underworld drink must be forced upon the masses with its accompanying poverty and degradation. Members of the social sets speak of their little coteries as if they constituted the Nation. Because they see drinking in their own circles they think the whole world drinks. "Everybody is going out of town," they will say, for instance, of Washington in the early summer, when, as a matter of fact, nearly 500,000 people are remaining in town and will stay in town.—United States Senator Morris Sheppard.

ROOSEVELT GETTING RESULTS.

"No man alive has given evidence of a firmer grasp of the facts underlying the fundamental conditions today or the remedy for our present ills than President Franklin D. Roosevelt," John E. Owens, prominent Dallas business man remarked Monday. "The citizens need have no fear of the abuse of what has been termed his dictatorial powers. Critics who have branded his farm relief measures and other steps toward lifting a depression as artificial interference might tell us where New Orleans would be without artificial dykes, where Galveston would be without its artificial seawall, or Dallas without artificial control of the Trinity or the artificial control of smallpox.

"Today I sold thirty-three bales of cotton for 8c. The best I could get heretofore was 5½c. West Texans are getting 20c a pound for wool, which means liquidation for them, payment of their bills and a step toward normal conditions.

"These are but a couple of the many indications which point to the fact that drastic action is being taken to relieve a drastic situation and results are beginning to show."

GRASSIVOROUS.

County Farm Agent Jack McCullough advises farmers who are short of pasturage or who need a hay crop to plant Sudan grass. It affords plenty of grazing and an adundance of hay. It is also an excellent drouth resisting crop and grows well in black land.—McKinney Daily Courier-Gazette.

Sudan grass is said to be a useful and dependable brother of Johnson grass, except that it hasn't Johnson's obstinate viciousness. Every farmer who really farms needs a pasture for his live stock, and grain for feed. But thousands in the cotton country fail year in and year out to grow their stock provender. Such a one is not a farmer. He is just another cotton grower, and in the financial position common to cotton growers. A farmer is a husbandman, a cotton grower is a half-time laborer. The prosperity combination includes cotton and other things, not cotton and nothing. However, a cotton raiser who is addicted to cotton raising and has no wish to better his condition is used to being told how wrong he is. It doesn't bother him at all to hear that his prospect for riches is about the same as a rabbit's prospect of becoming a ringtailed tiger. Sudan grass, we turn back to say, was developed in Egypt, itself a cotton-growing country. It likes a cotton climate. It has done a good deal for the Egyptians. It also grows in Mesopotamia, and may have been the herbage on which Nebuchadnezzar grazed when he was sent to pasture for his sins.—State Press in Dallas News.

CHARITY MUST PREPARE.

Much privation and suffering is sure to follow when the Veteran's Economy Law goes into effect July 1 by the administration's cruel and unjust regulation. Over $400,000,000 will be taken annually from widows decrepit and helpless veterans who will be thrown on local charity and local taxpayers. This same amount will be spent on reforestation employment, whose benefits are restricted to men from 18 to 25, thus excluding all ex-soldiers.

Discussing this the National Tribune, Washington, D. C. says:

That our views are sound is substantiated by no less an authority than Gen. Frank T. Hines, Administrator of Veterans' Affairs, who certainly is in a position to know whereof he speaks.

Addressing the national convention of the Red Cross in Washington last week, the Administrator made this highly pertinent comment:

"Distress will unquestionably ensue through the denial or reduction of pension hitherto received, regardless of its form or amount."

He was speaking of the review of all veterans' cases at the time and he told the Red Cross he knew they "are now and will be increasingly concerned with the results of this review." Continuing, he said: "State and community relief agencies also are concerned, so that they may measure what additional burdens may be thrown upon them."

At last the real facts are made public. Gen. Hines has told the unvarnished truth. The Government is going to throw the disabled veterans and their dependents onto charity organizations.

The objective long sought by the enormously wealthy interests which have long fought honest and decent treatment for the country's defenders has at last been attained—temporarily.

Charity organizations are forewarned to be prepared for the "additional burdens" which will be "thrown upon them."

What a sad picture this is. Men who offered their lives when the country was in peril must now seek food and shelter as common beggars because they are disabled and out of work. Government hospitals and homes may have plenty of room, but there are no accommodations for veterans who can not fit into the rigid limits of the hide-bound regulations.

Widows with little children who need a mother's loving care are denied aid because the moneyed interests object to paying their honest share of taxes on ill-gotten gains or unearned increment.

Men who bared their breast to the foe that the United States might become the greatest nation in the world must now swallow their self-respect and beg alms or die of starvation. Their children, who still need an education to fit them for the severe struggle for existence, must forego that "luxury" and seek employment to keep body and soul together. Perhaps they can find work which has been denied their fathers who are disabled. That, however, is highly questionable.

The few men who control the unlimited wealth of this country care nothing for patriotism except when they are cowering in fear that their wealth might be taken from them by a foreign foe. At such times they are the loudest shouters as the troops march by. So long as the country is at war and American youth is victorious they know full well they will gain untold profits—honestly or dishonestly is beside the point.

Once peace has been declared, however, their fears are gone and patriotism and love of country mean nothing to them.

"Why care for a disabled veteran?" they ask. "He can't fight again."

So the ex-service men must become objects of charity. And when funds for charity are sought the rich, especially the ultrarich, always avoid their share of the burden. Those least able invariably carry the load.

It is for that reason that the rich bankers and others of great wealth who dictate the policies of our Government wish to throw, to use Gen. Hines' word, the disabled veteran and their dependents onto charity.

Cruel and heartless it may seem to the average American citizen, but the boys with the doughbags hail this unprecedented scheme as a courageous act.

Let the charity organizations be prepared. The rich will contribute little but they will be saved from paying their honest debt to the Government which protects them and all they have accumulated—no matter how it was accumulated.

3 RULES
big help to BOWELS

What a joy to have the bowels move like clockwork, every day! It's easy, if you mind these simple rules of a famous old doctor:

1. Drink a big tumblerful of water before breakfast, and several times a day.
2. Get plenty of outdoor exercise without unduly fatiguing yourself.
3. Try for a bowel movement at exactly the same hour every day.

Everyone's bowels need help at times, but the thing to use is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. You'll get a thorough cleaning-out, and it won't leave your insides weak and watery. This family doctor's prescription is just fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin, and other helpful ingredients that couldn't hurt a child. But how it wakes up those lazy bowels! How good you feel with your system rid of all that poisonous waste matter.

Robert Murray Place Suffered Storm Losses

The Wetsel community suffered considerably in Sunday night's storm, May 14. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Murray, who own the old home farm of M. L. Taylor in that community about four miles south of McKinney, say that it was the worst storm that they ever saw in that community. Their chicken houses were torn to pieces and eighty little chicks of Mrs. Murray were killed. She had turkey eggs, hen eggs, duck eggs and guinea eggs all incubating under setting hens. All were destroyed. Their smokehouse was torn to pieces and the roof of their home was very badly damaged and window glasses broken out. Their garden was destroyed by the hailstones. As a result of the hailstorm, Mr. Murray had to plant over sixty acres of cotton that he had up and plowed over once. However, Mr. and Mrs. Murray are cheerful and say that the storm might have been much worse on them.

NATIONAL JERSEY BREEDERS MEET AT NASHVILLE

Jersey cattle breeders from all sections of the United States will gather in Nashville, Tenn., June 7, to attend the sixty-fifth national meeting of the American Jersey Cattle club, the first which the organization has ever held in the south.

Tennessee holds a preeminent place is the Jersey cattle industry in the United States and during the past half century there have been only five years in which no Tennessean has been on the American Jersey Cattle club directorate. The first Jerseys were brought to the state in 1867 by Mrs. R. S. Ewell of Spring Hill, Tenn. In the decade from 1920 to 1930 the number of registered purebred Jerseys in the state increased 88 per cent, the United States census figures giving Tennessee a total of 17,729 Jerseys on farms April 1, 1930.

Lewis M. Morley ,executive secretary, announces from the American Jersey Cattle club headquarters, New York, N. Y., that Governor Hill McAllister of Tennessee, will be the principal speaker at the morning session of the annual meeting. George W. Sisson Jr., of Potsdam, N. Y., president of the club, will preside.

Lynn Copeland, in charge of the production testing department of the American Jersey Cattle club and Miss Jesse Mary Hill, in charge of Jersey breed publicity and advertising for the club, will speak in the afternoon session. Mr. Copeland will discuss results of recent research concerning tested sires, and Miss Hill will talk on methods of advertising and selling Jersey cattle and their products.

George H. Armistead, editor of the Nashville Banner, George W. Sisson Jr., and O. E. Van Cleave, commissioner of agriculture of Tennessee, are the speakers on the special program at the dinner to be held following the annual meeting. Jim McCord of Lewisburg, Tenn., president of the Tennessee Jersey Cattle club, will preside as toastmaster.

Events of particular interest to breeders of Jersey cattle, including exhibitions and sales of cattle at Crieve Hall farms, owned by Herbert Farrell, and Fortland farm, owned by Dr. R. E. Fort, located near Nashville, and at Green Hill farms, Mt. Juliet, Tenn., have been planned to precede and follow the annual meeting.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES HELD FOR SENIORS

By DON W. BAGWILL.

Prophesying that in the future we are not to measure progress by the power to destroy mankind, but by development of a spirit of real brotherhood and a willingness to help our fellowman, Dr. C. C. Selecman, president of Southern Methodist university, of Dallas, addressed the eighty-seven seniors in the 1932-33 spring graduating class of McKinney High school at commencement exercises held Friday night in the Boyd High auditorium.

Dr. Selecman was introduced by Prof. Jack Ryan, city superintendent of schools, as "one of the most widely-known church leaders and president of one of the southwest's leading universities."

Other features of the evening's delightful program included presentation of diplomas by City Commissioner Add G. Wilson; awarding of scholarships to honor graduates, by Miss Mary Ruth Sneed, and the singing of several songs by the class.

Dr. C. S. Weaver, pastor of the First Christian church, gave both the invocation and the benediction.

Honor Students.

Miss Venita Morrow directed the class in all its musical numbers, which included two songs by the entire class personnel, one entitled, "To a Wild Rose," and the other a class song, and a special musical selection, "The Old Refrain," by eight young ladies of the group—Misses Mary Gene Franklin, Helen Reeves, Anna Mae Slaughter, Joyce Hurt, Jeannette Harris, Vaneta LaFollette, Arzolee Snider and Latane Boyer. Miss Rebekah Wilcox, daughter of Judge and Mrs. F. E. Wilcox, was accompanist.

Honor students, as announced by the sponsor, Miss Sneed, who is head of the history department, are Miss Ora Baxter, with an average of 93.27, and Murray Evans, for the boys, with an average of 93.21.

Miss Baxter is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Baxter, of Lake Providence, La. She has been residing in McKinney, however, taking advantage of our public school facilities. Murray Evans is a son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Evans of this city.

Second and third-place honor girl students are Miss Mary Younger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isham Younger, with an average of 93.04 and Miss Maudie Sears, daughter of Mrs. Charlie Sears, whose average was 92.12. Second honor boy student was Jim Perry Love, president of the class and son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Love, whose average was 92.91.

Miss Sneed praised highly the excellent work done by this large class of graduates.

Wonderful Class.

In his opening remarks, Supt. Ryan called attention to the large class of 87 spring term graduates which, added to the mid-term class of 38, totalled 125 graduates this year, the largest in high school history of this city. "It has been a wonderful class, each member of which has shown a wonderful spirit during the year; in fact, I have never known a class to co-operate better among themselves and with others than has this one," he said. He commended the citizenship of the city and county for their co-operation and especially paid a tribute to the taxpayers who, by payment of their taxes, have enabled our public school system to continue to make progress and to maintain the high standard of efficient work carried out so well from year to year. McKinney High school ranks seventh among all other high schools of the state in points of affiliation, he said.

Dr. Selecman.

Dr. Selecman, in beginning, declared that he listened with much interest to the brief talk by Supt. Ryan, including the interest shown by our taxpayers in our school system, in the excellent work done by the students, and in the fact this is the largest graduating class in history. "It would be neglecting my duty if I overlooked the privilege of congratulating you. But there is one other thing for which you are to be congratulated—that you have him (Supt. Ryan) as superintendent and leader of your schools.

"I am not familiar with the statistics of McKinney or Collin county; I do not know the amount of your bank deposits; neither do I know your per capita wealth nor the value of your products gathered each year. But, without this information, I venture you have here in this group of young people, as well as in future classes and those of the past, the crowning glory and the most valuable product of citizenship of which your city and county can boast.

"A poet has asked the question: 'What constitutes a state?' and has answered it by saying that, first of all, the answer is not in its huge cities, its large bays and ports, or battlements, but the answer is simply 'Men—high-minded men.'

True Value of Greatness.

"The greatness of America lies not in its countless oil wells, millions of acres or teeming millions in the cities, but rather in the sterling character of citizenship and the nobility of its people dwelling in the homes."

"It is natural," he declared, "on ward." He described as the difference between man and the lower animals, that man has possibilities for progress, which is not true among the lower animals.

By way of illustration, he cited the case of the beaver, which builds its dam as beavers did millions of years ago; the busy bee, which builds its honeycomb just as the first swarm of bees did; the oriole, which builds its nest just as instinctive wisdom caused the first oriole to construct its nest.

Progress of Mankind.

"That is not true of man. Man is improved today over his forbears of yesterday. The whole record of history is a record of mankind marching upward, with every one enjoying today the blessings of all civilizations of the past—every individual, a product of every civilization of the past."

Turning for a moment to the ways we may trace the progress of the human race, the speaker cited the following as evidences of mankind's progress down through the years. First, by places in which human beings live, as compared with dwellings and abodes of other days; second, in our methods of travel; third, by our implements and weapons; fourth, by the raiment we wear today as compared with the crude raiment of other days; ffith, by domestic organization.

Taking up these points one by one, Dr. Selecman briefly, yet forcefully, related the progress mankind has made in these and other fields of human endeavor. In each case, we are shown the slow, yet unmistakable upward progress of the human race.

Gives Illustrations.

Raiment worn today, for example, is a far step from the raiment of ancient people. In Biblical times, the first people used leaves on their bodies. In the clothing worn through the ages, we find unmistakable evidence of the progress of civilization. "Humanity moves upward," he told his large audience. He predicted that after a while, civilization will look on raiment as adding to the ease, grace and comfort of the individual—when style will have little to do in selecting of clothes.

Passing on to another phase of human development, he spoke briefly about human habitation. We take for granted such modern conveniences as gas, electricity, the frigidaire, the radio; but it took the human race a long while to get this far. Our first inhabitants dwelled in caves and dens; then in crude log houses; later, in houses made of mud, then in houses with glass windows, with chimneys for the outlet of smoke, then the modern heating system; and thus, on and on until we have the modern home of today with all the familiar modern conveniences.

Another evidence of progress, he added, is found in a study of implements and weapons. He contrasted the great modern-day combine and tractor with the first crude wooden farm plow that barely scratched the soil. He also traced the history of weapons, declaring the first inhabitants likely used their bare hands for protection. Steps of progress in this type of development include the use of the club, hurling a stone through air, use of the bow and arrow, invention of gunpowder, great guns and finally bringing into use such types as the 'Big Bertha' in use during the World war.

Change In Ideals.

"The time is coming," he stressed, "when progress in the art of destruction will be so perfected to look as if humanity has the power to commit suicide." He likened this state to small children playing with a big explosive, hardly knowing the power contained therein.

At this point, Dr. Selecman prophesied that in the future we are going to register progress not by our power and ability to destroy mankind, but in our measure of developing a spirit of brotherhood and our willingness to help our fellowman.

Commends Roosevelt.

He commended President Roosevelt, whom he termed a 'wizard,' for hurling a challenge to the rest of the world to disarm, urging that all nations live in peace together.

Speaking directly to the graduates, Dr. Selecman said, "All the battlefields are not yet conquered, all the secrets are not known, all the mountains have not been climbed. I beckon you to come on up as young troopers do in a war; when regiments, faltering, are replaced by fresh groups, coming up, one after the other, and taking the field of battle.

Challenges Class.

"God grant that you be able to do what we have been unable to do. In our generation, we have experienced the greatest war in history; we have seen the world's greatest depression; we have observed the crime wave while gangster rule has almost bluffed its way into power; poverty and unemployment is all about us.

"Build a better world than we have done. Live in it and bless it by your lives and leave the world better than you found it. Reach upward until civilization advances; plant the banner of truth and courage as you give the cry of victory. Heaven bless you and may 'onward' be your watchword. May you be guided by a wisdom that is Divine."

Mr. Wilson Presents Diplomas.

In his introductory remarks prior to awarding the diplomas, Mr. Wilson, prominent McKinney first graduating class in the history of the McKinney High school, which graduated May 2, 1889. There were four members of that class, two of whom still reside in McKinney—Mrs. J. Frank Smith and Mrs. Jim Fitzhugh.

Reads Telegram.

Mr. Wilson then read a telegram from the McKinney Junior Chamber of Commerce, congratulating this splendid graduating class. He likewise commended Supt. Ryan, the school board, faculty and friends of the school. "This is their reward," he said, pointing to the seniors. He spoke of the diplomas as 100 per cent dividend checks. Mr. Wilson has a son, Tom Wilson, in this year's senior class.

The stage was made attractive for the commencement exercises, with a profusion of ferns and beautiful carnations. So large was the group of seniors, it was impossible to lower the curtain on the stage, the seniors marching in and taking their places shortly before the exercises began.

Large Crowd Attends.

The crowd of relatives and friends attending was perhaps the largest ever to attend a commencement program in this city. Long before time for the exercises to begin, every available seat, both upstairs and down, was taken and standing room was at a premium. Large numbers were forced to turn away, unable to gain admittance into the auditorium.

J. J. TAYLOR OF DALLAS NEWS ADDRESSED R. F. D.

J. J. Taylor, State Press of the Dallas News, was the chief speaker at the quarterly meeting of the Collin-Rockwall Counties Rural Letter Carriers' association at Plano Saturday night, May 13. By special invitation the Dallas county association also met with them. A large crowd was present.

Ray Yarbrough, carrier on route 2, Plano, presided. Mayor R. Shell Jr. delivered the welcome address, which was responded to by Mr. Martin, president of the Dallas County association.

Rev. J. D. Barron, pastor of the Plano Methodist church, made a brief address, and had the audience to stand as a mark of respect to the memory of M. Rand, a Frisco carrier, who passed away a few days ago, and Mrs. Matilda Mitchell mother of Carrier R. B Howey, who died Thursday afternoon of last week. The wives of the carriers had prepared a sumptuous feed and following Rev. Barron's remarks were invited into the banquet hall. Following the lunch Mr. Yarbrough again called the meeting to order and a most interesting program followed.

Jusnita, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Yarbrough, favored the audience with a song. Her brother, Mrs. Tom Farrell, was her accompanist at the piano. Miss Peggy Jane Wyatt, also sang, playing her own accompaniment on her uke.

Rev. W. T. Thurman made an interesting talk, commending the carriers for their efficient and unselfish service they are rendering the rural population.

R. B. Howey, appropriately presented a gold metal from the association to Bart Popplewell of Allen, who was recently retired after thirty years of faithful service as a carrier out of Allen. Mr. Popplewell began his career in 1903. He assured the carriers that he greatly appreciated the honor, and feelingly assured

The principal speaker of the evening, J. J. (Joe) Taylor of Dallas ,better known as State Press of the Dallas Morning News, was introduced by Arthur A. Bagwill. Mr. Taylor's address was entertaining and profitable. His humorous remarks elicited much applause from his hearers.

His main thought, however, was to live the simple life, stating that a life of simplicity and security is worth more than all the wealth that one might accumulate.

Following his address the association held a business meeting, as did also the ladies' auxiliary.

Quite a few Melissa folks went to McKinney Sunday to attend the baccalaureate exercises of the graduating class there. There are a number of our boys and girls in the senior class there this year. They are Irene Anderson, Pearl Aston, Mattie Lee Miller, Annie Maye Slaughter, R. F. Lawson, Wade Slaughter Bud Milraney, Ruth Nichols, Otto Belcher and Ernest Glen Bell.

Rush Pitts, who has been in Big Lake, Neagan county, for some six weeks and where he has a position, came in Sunday, May 7, after his wife, who had been here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thad Parris. Mr. and Mrs. Pitts left Tuesday morning for their future home. They had lived four years or more at Big Lake until about two years ago, hence are not going to a new town but back among old-time friends and acquaintances.

If there is one thing more common than the measles now, I don't knew what is is. Among those who have had them or sick now, are Edgar Conditt, Lucy Ellen and Edna Earl Orenduff, Willie D. Roach, Winston Anderson, Elizabeth and Thelma Porter, Hugh Rice, Walter Henry Edwin, Russell and James Thorton Dickinson, Mary Beth, Jack and Shirley Jean Taylor A. L. Farley, Charley Erwin and Mattie Lee Miller, Winfred Anderson and Bobbie Ogilvie.

Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Martin of Tyler visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. S H. Parris ,and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Martin here for a day or so last week. Mr. Martin has bought an interest in the Royster-Martin company, wholesale and retail ,in Tyler, and is in business for himself. He has been working for the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco company for nine years, the last five as division manager at Tyler. Recently he was transferred to Shreveport, La., and he and his wife went over and worked there about a month. But Mr. Martin had a chance to get into business for himself and availed himself of the opportunity. He and his wife were born and reared here. Malcolm had a tailor shop in Melissa when quite a young fellow. He served in the World war and was wounded in action in 1917. He was in business in McKinney for about two years, having a grocery and market, after which he became connected with the Reynolds tobacco firm. His rise with them has been steady but seeing a fine chance to do what he believed was bettering his condition, eh grasped it. Mrs. Martin, who was Miss Cordia Parris, is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Parris. After finishing school here she worked in the postoffice at Melissa as clerk until her marriage to Mr. Martin 1918. She has assisted him in his work being his office help for the past three years.

The decoration of Highland cemetery was attended by a large crowd Sunday afternoon, May 7. The weather was absolutely perfect for an outside gathering. Highland cemetery is situated nearly half way between Anna and Melissa on a beautiful rolling prairie. In the years long gone the old Highland church was here where after the Civil war people came from far and near to worship God. So now, old-time citizens love to gather at their beloved old meeting place made so much dearer with their loved ones resting here. After the business meeting quite a nice program was carried out. Miss Anna Lou Powell of Anna gave a reading. A quartet was sung by Tom Mitchell, Erwin Kissinger of McKinney and Bob and Elmer Parris. County Supt. Dow Hendricks made an address. A song was sung by the audience. Rev. R. L. Bonner dismissed the crowd. C. C. Riggins of Anna is president of the association. Thad Parris is secretary and John Slaughter is treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. John Vaughn have rented rooms from Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cunningham.

One of the high points of the convention program will be the formal dedication of the new $65,000 University Christian church on Tuesday evening, June 13.

Among the Texas ministers who will have a place on the program are: Rev. George Cuthrell, Tyler; Rev. J. Leslie Finnell, Fort Worth; Rev. Graham Frank, Dallas; Rev. Gus Ramage, Pecos; Rev. J. M. 25 VARIETIES OF VEGETABLES IN GARDEN

"I hadn't intended to plant any onions, but Mrs. Erwin gave me some seed and I planted one row. They came up so thick that when I thinned them there were slips for two of my neighbors and enough to produce onions for both their families," Mrs. Clara Covintgon informs Miss Helen Dunlap, county home demonstration club agent.

Mrs. Covington is family food supply demonstrator of the Melissa Home Demonstration club.

Mrs. Covington has an excellent garden, containing twenty-five different varieties of vegetables. She states that the week before she had potatoes as well as cabbage to eat, fresh from her garden. There are plenty of green beans, carrots, English peas, radishes, lettuce, spinach and mustard for use each day from the garden now. The beets are now ready to can, but a few more days would make many of them too large for the best quality. The English peas are of a late variety and are now being canned for winter use.

Besides the earlier vegetables, Mrs. Covington has numerous later ones that will soon be coming into production. Tomatoes, cucumbers and squash are beginning to bloom, and before long the cream peas will also be in bloom. She is growing kohl rabi as a new vegetable this year. From one small package of seed she has supplied plants for not only her own garden, but for several of the neighbors as well. The edible part is now as large as a walnut.

With such a splendid garden, Mrs. Covington is producing the very best type of vegetable for canning, which when canned by approved methods, will make excellent food for winter at a small cost.

They will not lack for tenderness, since they have been constantly growing as a result of systematic care and cultivation. Insects have been kept out of the garden, too, which makes possible the best quality of product. Mrs. Covington realizes the importance of putting the best quality of product in a can, if one would have the best on the table in the winter.

Cotton chopping will soon be the order of the day.

Only a few years ago the average home used electric service for lighting only. Many of the present-day economical electric appliances were unheard of. But today, as the average customer enjoys the pleasure and comfort of the radio, electric fan, electric vacuum sweeper, electric iron, electric washer, electric clock, well placed and artistic table and reading lamps . . . and in many homes the electric range and electric refrigerator . . . the Light Bill is the Electric Service Bill.

When the Electric Service Bill was known as the Light Bill, the average residence lighting customer used only about thirteen kilowatt hours a month. Today, with the many electric appliances bringing comfort and pleasure to the housewife and all other members of the family, the average residence lighting customer uses about twenty-six kilowatt hours a month.

The cost of electric service has not gone up in proportion to its increased use. Unlike other costs of living, which the United States Department of Commerce figures show are still 32 per cent higher than before the war, the average cost of residence electric lighting service to customers of this company was consistently reduced.

Electricity IS Cheaper. You get more for your money in your Electric Service Bill than in any other household bill.

SEEN HERE AND THERE.

Every one seems to be enjoying today's cooler weather . . . . The bicycling fad has arrived in McKinney; saw Mrs. Jud Henderson and Miss Jeanette Harris out bicycling yesterday afternoon . . . R. E. (Bob) Gordon certainly gets a kick out of joking with a friend . . . Mrs. Alvin Hines and pretty little daughter, Molly Ethel, pass by in their car . . . Pete Perkins Jr. has been confined to his bed for the past several days; Pete is a favorite with both his playmates and grown-ups as well; we hope to see him out again soon . . . Down at the Junior Chamber of Commerce barbecue Tuesday night, approximately 150 members and guests had the time of their lives . . . How many bottles of 'pop' did W. W. Hall drink? . . . You should have seen Jack McCullough, Anrel Belden, Olin Dearing, Carl McDonald, Dr. Lloyd Thomas, W. W. Taylor and some of the other members making that tempting food disappear . . . Ewes Brown, on whose farm the event was staged, is a perfect host . . . Jesse Orendorff, member of the orchestra playing for that outdoor gathering, predicted every business house would have a "sell-out" on chigger-chaser today following the outdoor celebration . . . Saw Mrs. H. D. Gamble in line twice with as many plates; however, we'll confess that one was for their little daughter, Ethelyne . . . The wives and sweethearts of the Jaycees had a great time, too . . . W. P. Abernathy was presented with a loving cup, having won the recent golf tournament at Hill Crest; he didn't let that cup get out of his sight, either; at that, we don't blame him . . . Chuck Carmichael, Luther Roberts and Homer W. Wilson shouldn't want anything to eat for some time, judging by the amount of barbecue they made away with Tuesday night.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

Friends about town are often found discussing President Roosevelt and some phase of his great program which, thus far, has met with unusual success. Especially do they refer to the heart-to-heart talks he is bringing to the nation. Through the press and over the radio, he is taking his messages to the millions of inhabitants of this country. He has already spoken over the radio five times since his inauguration. And that's not all. He is scheduled to speak on to appear at at least three other events within the next thirty days. Going back in our memory a few weeks—March 4, to be exact—came his inaugural address; then, March 5, a talk concerning the American Legion; March 12, first message to the people on the acts of the administration; April 12, address on Pan-American day; May 7, second message to the people. Other of appearances over the radio [illegible]

May 30—G. A. R. observance Memorial day at Arlington National cemetery, to be broadcast from 2 to 3 p. m., Eastern Standard time.

June 1—Graduation exercises at the Naval academy, Annapolis.

June 14—Graduation exercises at the Catholic University of America and the conferring of a degree on President Roosevelt by the university, to be broadcast from 12 noon to 1 p. m., Eastern standard time.

THEY FEEL AT HOME.

It is interesting to learn the manner in which the president conducts the White House conferences with representatives of the press. The late Clinton W. Gilbert recently remarked along this line, declaring there was a more friendly and social contact between the chief executive and the press than ever before. Now, instead of having his interviews specially prepared typewritten and ready to hand out to the reporters, President Roosevelt talks frankly with the reporters, calling many of them by their first names. They feel at home and, annually, look forward to meeting Roosevelt at the White House conferences.

THE MOSQUITO.

Our old, but unwelcome friend, the mosquito, is with us again. At night, we frequently hear one of these tiny intruders singing somewhere nearby. Which reminds us to leave this suggestion: Swat 'em! There's only one way to get rid of them and that is to destroy their breeding places, in pools of water, old tin cans, which contain water, and other places including the rain barrel. Let's run them out of McKinney this summer until there remains not a single one of these little pests with us.

BICYCLING.

Bicycling is becoming a popular sport over the nation. Its popularity has already reached McKinney, as many young men and women may be seen here and there on their bicycles. There's one thing to be in favor of a bicycle for outdoor recreation: it doesn't need a [illegible] to run along.

M'KINNEY CLUB LAKE WAS WELL STOCKED WITH FISH

A game warden, who is familiar with what he is talking about, the other day told A. L. Cole, a director of the McKinney Club lake, that this latter body of water of about 250 acres, was better stocked with fish than Dallas lake was when it was first opened up.

Mr. Cole is really enthusiastic over the outlook for good fishing at McKinney Club lake which, splendid body of water, is located about ten miles southeast of town. It is now well filled up with water. It was stocked several months ago with thousands of suitable varieties of fish. The club officials have decided that the fishing season may open up in the next couple of months or so.

LOVEJOY SCHOOL CLOSES ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL TERM

The Lovejoy school, located southeast of McKinney, closed a successful term Friday with an all-day celebration. On Thursday night the entire community was favored by a play presented by local talent under the supervision of Mrs. Cliffrod Ereckson. The play was thoroughly enjoyed and will be remembered as one of the best plays ever given at Lovejoy.

On Friday morning the patrons and pupils of the school were honored by an address by Dr. C. S. Weaver, pastor of the First Christian church of McKinney, whose wise and interesting remarks were enjoyed.

Following this address dinner was prepared for the large number of friends, patrons, teachers and pupils who were present. In the afternoon, Lovejoy and the McKinney High Senior teams played a ball game, McKinney winning 4-3.

Prof. P. D. Lewis is the efficient principal of the school, assisted by Miss Louise Martin, Mrs. Ralph Bedell and Miss Ruby Copus.

Among those who attended from McKinney were County Judge J. Frank Harrington, Editor F. C. (Carlie) Thompson, Dr. Clifford S. Weaver, Rev. J. Ben Snider, Giles McKinney, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Willis and son, Jim Alfred Willis and wife; Larry Drake, assistant cashier of the Central State bank; Constable Johnny Record and Deputy Hester Lewis.

WORLD WHEAT ACREAGE BELOW LAST YEAR

Wheat acreage in twenty-five countries, excluding Russia but including both winter wheat for harvest and the intended spring wheat acreage in the United States and Canada, is reported at 184,686,000 acres, or about 5 percent below the 194,121,000 acres in 1932, according to the bureau of agricultural economics, U. S. department of agriculture. The twenty-five countries had about 75 per cent of the estimated world wheat acreage last year outside of Russia.

Winter wheat acreage remaining for harvest in the United States is only 27,096,000 acres out of 39,985,000 acres sown last fall.

A decrease of more than 4,000,000 acres in winter sowings is reported for Russia. No definite figures are as yet available from Australia where a smaller acreage is also in prospect.

The bureau says that if Canadian farmers carry out their intentions to plant spring wheat, the total 1933 wheat acreage in Canada will be 28,685,000 acres compared with 27,182,000 acres in 1932. About 6 per cent of the acreage seeded to wheat in Canada in the fall of 1932 has been abandoned, leaving 514,000 acres for harvest in 1933, compared with 536,000 acres in 1932.

CALIFORNIA EARTHQUAKE REHABILITATION

Food, clothing, medical assistance, repairs to homes and other forms of rehabilitation have been extended to 633 families in the area affected by the recent California earthquake, according to the latest report filed with the American Red Cross by A. L. Schafer, director of Red Cross relief in the disaster.

Cases are being closed at the rate of sixty-five families daily, he states. Of the 4,660 families registered as seeking assistance, approximately half have had their claims investigated and settlements reached. Thirty workers are engaged in family investigational work.

Consideration is now being given to rehabilitation of numerous small, personally operated shops, concessions and personal service projects located in homes.

GRANDSON OF H. E. MORGAN GETS HERO MEDAL

The following news item about the conferring of a hero medal on a Kerrville Boy Scout is of special interest to McKinney relatives and friends. The young lad, whose bravery was rewarded, is Morgan Flenniken, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Flenniken of Kerrville and a grandson of former County Tax Collector Henry E. Morgan and wife of McKinney. The Flennikens formerly lived in Collin county, where he taught school at various places. The following article and picture of the brave young lad are taken from a recent issue of the San Antonio Express:

KERRVILLE BOY SCOUT AWARDED HERO MEDAL

MORGAN FLENNIKEN.

Kerrville, Texas, April 29.—A hero medal has been awarded to Morgan Flenniken, 15, Kerrville Boy Scout, who with a companion was instrumental in saving the lives of three children. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Flenniken. His knowledge of artificial respiration saved from suffocation Donald, age 7, Geraldine, 5, and Betty Jean, 3, children of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Zigler of Kerrville. On the highway between Kerrville and Fredericksburg, Zigler and his family stopped at a swollen stream, the Pedernales river, and he pushed the car back from the edge of the ford. After looking at his sputtering motor, he discovered that the three children, on the back seat, were overcome by exhaust fumes.

Young Flenniken on his way to Brady, was on the opposite side of the rising river when he heard Zigler's call for help. Flenniken and his companion, J. B. Terrell Jr., now moved from Kerrville, waded and swam the stream to go to Zigler's aid. The two older children were revived shortly, but the 3-year-old had to be worked with for about eight hours before she was permanently conscious. About noon, she was removed to a farm house and Scout Flenniken continued to walk her around and keep her breathing. A Fredericksburg physician called to the farm home, gave the Kerrville boy credit for saving the children. The youth worked eight hours, from about 3:30 in the morning. In was about 4:30 p. m. when he had his lunch.

The medal, engraved with his name and inscribed, "For Service to Others" was awarded by the Ralston Hero Commission of St. Louis. Formal presentation of the award is to be made at the next Court of Honor session of the Kerrville Boy Scout district.

NATION MORE PROSPEROUS UNDER DRY LAW

No wet nation has come through the present depression with as little suffering and privation as the United States. Compare 1914 (wet, with 1931, a depression dry year. The records show that we earned more, spent more, and saved more during the depression year 1931 (dry). Here are the figures, taken from the official records.

Volume of trade, 1914, 22 billions; 1931, 40 billion, per cent increase 82 per cent.

Bank deposits, 1914, 19 billions; 1931, 52 billions, Per cent increase 178 per cent.

Deposits in savings banks, 1914, 9 billions; 1931, 28 billions, per cent increase 211 per cent.

National income, 1914, 36 billions; 1931, 70 billions, per cent increase 48 per cent.

New life insurance, 1914, 12 billions; 1931, 16 billions, per cent increase 33 per cent.

The average income per capita was in round numbers, 1914, $460; in 1931 $562. Per cent increase 56 per cent.

We bought more gasoline in 1931 than in any preceding year, and more homes were supplied with electricity, and more current was consumed.

The North American Newspaper alliance, corroborates these results, in a copyrighted article appearing March 10, 1932, in which it also stated that comparing 1914 (wet) with 1929 (dry), the first year of the depression, U. S. wealth increased 93 per cent, her foreign commerce increased 128 per cent, government income or revenue increased 444 per cent (without any revenue from the liquor traffic). Our bank deposits increased nearly 230 per cent, insurance in force increased more than 317 per cent, and wages paid by manufacturing establishments increased about 168 per cent.

There is no wet nation great or small that has a record that approaches that of the United States. And this marvelous showing was made under nine years of national prohibition. Yet, notwithstanding these facts, which are so apparent to all seeing and thinking people, there is an organization in the East and Europe that, aided and abetted by certain men and women (think of that) who are doing absolutely everything in their power to turn this country back to the old saloon days. However, if the people could know the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth about prohibition, and what it has done, and what it will continue to do for us, the wets in their effort to overthrow, will meet with an overwhelming and crushing defeat.

"WARRANTED" PENSIONS TO BE CONTINUED

According to an Associated Press report from Washington, D. C., May 23, all honorably discharged war veterans who have received disabilities resulting directly from wartime service are to be continued as service connected cases "unless clearly unwarranted."

This means, Veterans Administrator Hines said Tuesday, that an honorably discharged war veteran with the requisite wartime service who is suffering from a disability of 10 per cent degree incurred during such service, not the result of misconduct, may be assured a pension.

Orders to that effect have been sent to veterans regional offices.

An additional order issued modifies the more marked reductions in ratings, covering gunshot wounds, arrested tuberculosis and severe forms of disability.

PLANS BEING MADE TO HANDLE LARGE ONION CROP HERE THIS SEASON; R. R. COMPANIES TO BUILD WAREHOUSES

INDUSTRIAL COMMITTEE OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, HEADED BY H. S. WARE, IS ALSO BUSY; FAIR PRICE EXPECTED FOR PRODUCT.

With both the L. A. & T. and the Southern Pacific Railroad companies in this city planning to build large housing sheds, plans are rapidly going forward for the anticipated large onion crop to be handled here this season.

The L. A. & T. railway, R. J. Thompson, agent, will start the construction Monday, of a 90-foot shed, reaching from the end of the present warehouse to Virginia street. The shed will be 35x90 feet.

T. C. Martin, local agent of the Southern Pacific, says engineers of that road are here today, figuring on a 50x100 feet shed which, if completed, will include $500 or $600 worth of improvements.

The purpose of these sheds is to afford a storage place for the onions after they are brought to McKinney before they are shipped.

The sheds will be well roofed, will have drops on each side to protect the onions, stored there temporarily against the elements.

The movement to take care of the onion crops is backed by H. S. Ware and his industrial committee of the Chamber of Commerce. Realizing the need of farmers, using McKinney as a onion shipping point, for such sheds, Secretary W. Hammond Moore of the Chamber of Commerce, Chariman Ware and his industrial committee and the two railway agents here have worked hard to secure such an improvement.

This year's onion crops gives promise of being one of the best in the history of Collin county and what looks like a fair price for the product will be received by local farmers.

According to Secretary W. Hammond Moore there are more farmers growing onions this year north and northwest of McKinney than ever before. In fact, one farmer near this city is planning on shipping out from this city between 40 and 50 carloads. There will likely be as many as 120 carloads shipped from McKinney this season. This city shipped 82 cars out last year. Other shipping points in the county, besides McKinney are Farmersville, Princeton, Melissa, Wylie, Copeville, Plano and Murphy.

As stated above, the onion crop this year gives promise of a splendid yield with fair prices. This will turn loose considerable money in the county and comes when most other crops are in the making and when the farmers are sorely in need of cash. These sheds will further facilitate handling of the onions and will be an inducement to farmers to raise them in the future, helping McKinney to become the center of the industry.

APPROXIMATELY 100 EX-SERVICE MEN ATTEND MASS MEETING HERE TUESDAY NIGHT, SPONSORED BY LEGION POST

WORLD WAR VETERANS BELIEVE NOW IS TIME TO SECURE PAYMENT OF ADJUSTED SERVICE CERTIFICATES; MANY TIMELY ADDRESSES MADE AT MEETING.

Approximately 100 members of the Jimmie Geigas American Legion post and other posts of the county, as well as other ex-service men in all directions from McKinney, gathered at the City Hall Tuesday night for a mass meeting in response to a call for a mass meeting of all World war veterans.

Simultaneous meetings are being held all over Texas this week, at the request of State Commander Carl Nesbitt, of Mineola, for concerted action in an effort to take immediate action on payment of the balance due World war veterans on their adjusted service certificates.

Petition Circulated.

A petition is in the hands of Alex Burks, local legionnaire, which all ex-service men are asked to sign, copies of which will be forwarded to Congressman Sam Rayburn and State Senators Morris Sheppard and Tom Connally. The petition urges prompt payment of the remaining portion of the soldiers' adjusted certificates.

Among those called on for short addresses at Tuesday night's meeting by Commander Chapman, were City Attorney John Reese, County Attorney W. C. Dowdy, Haisell S. Davis, T. W. Franklin, O. L. Hope, S. G. Taylor, Roy L. Brockman, all past commanders of the local post; Alex Burks, Morris Gay, Dr. P. D. Robason, Jim Thomas and others.

State Commander Writes.

Mr. Davis read a letter written from State Commander Nesbitt and R. O. Whitaker, department adjutant, urging ex-service men to get solidly behind the movement for adjusted certificates payment at once, since payment of this money would be one of the greatest possible relief measures, in the hope that the certificates be paid by July 1. Now is the logical time to bring pressure to bear upon the authorities, because of the help it would bring not only to ex-service men but to the entire country, as a direct result of the money that would be released into trade channels.

Other action taken at Tuesday night's meeting, presided over by Commander Chapman, included appointment of committees to see that graves in the fifteen or twenty cemeteries surrounding McKinney, wherein repose the bodies of world war veterans, are properly decorated with American flags Sunday, May 28, the Sunday nearest decoration day, May 30.

Mr. Reese Talks.

In his timely address, Hon. Mr. Reese, long time active member of the local post, declared it is imperative that legion posts back the cause of payment of adjusted [illegible]

ALEX BURKS HAS COPY OF PETITION

Alex Burks has a copy of the petition for ex-service men to sign, at the Texas theater, on East Louisiana street. Those who have not signed it are urged to go by and add their name along with the hundreds of others already affixed to the petition. Mr. Burks announces that the petition will be kept over Saturday, thereby giving all veterans, whether a member of any legion post or not, an opportunity to affix their signature along with hundreds of other buddies.

erans favor the payment of these adjusted service certificates now as a relief measure, but also probably a majority of congress, many leading statesmen and the masses of the people of the country. Sentiment seems to be rapidly swinging back in favor of the Legion's views on this question although it is certain that when the measure is presented it will meet strong opposition again from the group which made possible the enactment of the recent drastic economy measures. The National Economy league is a powerful group combating the interests of the former soldiers, widows and orphans of all the wars. But, if the Legion and other veterans will speak out quickly and unequivocally now congress may favorably act upon the so-called bonus before it adjourns next month.

Government Can Pay.

The government is now in a position to make this payment, by July 1, which would afford a quick and effective relief to veterans as well as to depressed business conditions. It is estimated that turning loose this money to the soldiers would mean a total of $750,000 in cash to World war veterans in Collin county.

Committees Named.

Committees named by Commander Chapman and the cemeteries where they are to visit for the purpose of decorating graves of all deceased veterans with American flags, are as follows:

S. G. Taylor—Melissa, Highland, Weston and Cottage Hill cemeteries.

H. H. Standley—Allen, Rowlett and Mt. Olive.

Bartow Chapman — Walnut Grove, Bethel and Wear.

O. L. Hope—Chambliss, Altoga, Verona, Elm Grove.

Jim Thomas, chairman of committee to see that graves in Pecan Grove cemetery, McKinney, are decorated.

H. S. Davis—Wilson, Climax and Princeton.

Those who will decorate graves of veterans in Noyes and Forest Grove cemeteries will be announced at a later date, Commander Chapman said.

W. J. James of Blue Ridge transacted business in McKinney Monday.

W. B. Harrison, McKinney grain dealer, attended a grain meeting in Dallas Monday.

W. C. (Clarence) Dowdy.

County Attorney Dowdy also spoke briefly regarding this important question and stressing his belief in the beneficial effects payment of the certificates by our government would have on the country. We now have an excellent opportunity to secure the remainder of the funds, in his opinion.

Haisell S. Davis explained that the purpose of the meeting was to further enlighten all ex-service men on the subject and to inform them of the workings of legion posts and of their direct and indirect benefit to every man who went across during the war. He is a charter member of the Jimmie Geigas post, which group he commended for its helpful work. The local post and others have rendered a great service. And yet, he declared, possibly not more than 10 per cent of war veterans belong to any post, pointing out that of the 2,350 men who returned to this county from overseas service, our post has never boasted more than 200 members. These members are working for the best interests of every veteran in a common cause; hence, the importance of every man who saw service overseas lining up with the organization.

Other Speakers.

T. W. Franklin laid stress on the importance of becoming a member of some legion post. In fact, it is a privilege to join such a group, working, as it does for a common cause. He, too, is a charter member of the local organization.

O. L. Hope was another who spoke briefly, stating that with enough members and the proper co-operation, the men can accomplish almost anything they set out to do.

Shirley G. Taylor and others voiced their approval of what previous speakers had said.

Another to speak at the Tuesday night mass meeting was Jim Thomas, a veteran of both the Spanish-American and the World wars.

Need More Members.

The letter from the state commander, as read by Mr. Davis, contained much information regarding activity of legionnaires in this and other states of the nation. National membership numbers approximately 600,000 which is 400,000 short of previous membership, while Texas boasts 20,000, which is 17,000 short of last year. While there are 163,000 veterans in Texas holding certificates, yet membership in the state numbers only 20,000. Texas should [illegible] 30,000 more members in the effort to secure payment of the money due the soldiers, and only [illegible]

OVER TWO-INCH RAINFALL HERE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

HEAVY SPRING RAIN GIVES COMMUNITY GOOD SOAKING

Heavy spring rains continue to drench McKinney and vicinity. Wednesday night, rain began to fall in this city, getting heavier and continuing until early Thursday. The total amount of moisture recorded by E. Pearl Skelton, local government weather observer, was 2.08 inches. This, added to the .40 inch that fell Wednesday about noon, totals 2.48 inches precipitation here in the past day's time.

The added, moisture will likely keep farmers of the county out of their fields for several days. Many of them are engaged in plowing and chopping cotton, hoeing corn or working in their onions, this being one of their busiest seasons. Many of them, prevented from doing needed farm work, came to McKinney to spend the day.

May is proving to be a 'damp' month for this city and county, there having been an unusually large amount of rainfall recorded here during the month.

SHORT COURSE AT C. I. A. WELL ATTENDED

By MISS FRANCES FOSTER.

More than 2,000 farmers, farm girls, women, boys and girls attended the seventh annual short course held at the Texas State College for Women (C. I. A.) in Denton Friday, May 19, in co-operation with the extension service of the A. & M. college of Texas. Of this group, more than 100 of the visitors were from Collin county, gathering at the local chamber of commerce early Friday morning, and leaving in a delegation to attend the all-day event.

As the guests arrived on the college campus they were shown many courtesies by the C. I. A. students. An hour or two was spent inspecting the college and campus. Some of the places visited on this campus tour included the various departments in the administration building, gymnasiums, dormitories, library building, household arts building, rural arts building, where a vegetable display, canning equipment and cactus display were found; president's gardens, students' laboratory garden, botanical garden, Anita Carroll gardens, college laundry, college hospital and the Mary M. Bradley and Ellen H. Richards cottages. The latter were proved to be unusually interesting, being equipped as a home where eight girls are assigned for a period of several weeks, to keep house in the manner in which it should be kept. These young ladies do all their cooking, housekeeping, laundering, etc. This is part of their regular college work, for which they receive credit.

Assembly at 10:30.

At 10:30 a. m. assembly was held in the spacious college auditorium where a very interesting and entertaining program was given. The college orchestra, directed by Prof. David Hansard, played several classical selections, with Miss Margaret Hughston, daughter of Tom A. Hughston and wife of Dallas, but formerly of this city, as pipe organist.

Rev. E. E. White, pastor of the First Methodist church of Denton, gave the invocation after which Dr. L. H. Hubbard, president of the college, spoke words of welcome to the large number of guests present. Fred W. Westphal, director of rural arts in C. I. A., was master of ceremonies, presiding over the day's program. President Hubbard introduced members of the executive staff of the college to the large audience. Dean E. V. White of the college was also presented and responded with a few remarks.

O. B. Martin, director of extension service at A. & M. was the principal speaker Friday morning, bringing a very entertaining and informative lecture. He used several illustrations, some humorous and others of a more serious nature, to emphasize points in his talk, holding the closets attention of his audience as he spoke, in the interest of the farm men and women of our country and the training they can give their boys and girls for the further development of our great agricultural state.

Lunch Spread on Campus.

A vocal ensemble, composed of twelve young ladies from the voice department, gave two selections, that were heartily applauded.

During the luncheon period, the group gathered under the trees on the campus, where the girls of the home economics department, had spread the basket lunches brought by the women. The college furnished ham, potato salad, sliced bread, sweet relish and iced tea to go with the bounteous supply of delectables prepared by the farm women and girls who attended.

Afternoon Program.

The afternoon session was resumed at 1:30 when the women gathered in the college auditorium to hear Miss Mam'e Lee Hayden bring an address on "Texas Handmade Rugs of Beauty and Quality" and Miss Mary Starr Taylor, assistant professor in the department of fine and applied arts, speak on "Floor and Wall Furnishings for the Living Room." Miss Hayden exhibited a number of rugs and mats that had been entered in an exhibit at the college for the day. Several C. I. A. girls gave the preliminary program for the afternoon under the title of "C. I. A. Varieties," presenting Miss Kathleen Sims, vocalist; Miss Mozeli Elliot, C. I. A. songbird, whistling two selections, and Miss Betty Lighton, giving a specialty tap number. The program closed with a style show, sponsored by the department of home economics and the department of fine and applied arts, in which the young ladies gracefully modeled pajamas, sports frocks, street and afternoon dresses, house dresses and evening and dinner gowns. Men Visit Experiment Farm.

The men and boys spent Friday afternoon at the experiment farm, west of the Denton city limits, where they were received by Paul B. Dunkle, superintendent of the station. About 500 men went out to the farm where, under the direction of guides, they were shown over the farm, viewing the many varieties of oats, wheat, barley, cotton, corn and other field crops being grown. They also noted the rotation system terracing, new crops (one of them being flax), the grasses being tested out for this section to be used for better pastures; breeding work in which varieties of corn, etc., are being crossed, the different kinds of fertilizer and effects of it on certain crops and the effects of planting soil building crops, on the crops that follow.

All ex-students of the college, staff members of the extension service, and home demonstration agents were entertained at tea at 3:30 o'clock, while the annual home demonstration club banquet was held at 7:15 p. m.
